TRIBAL SERVICES

Our experience working with and alongside Native American tribes, agencies, and entities is based on respect for traditions and expectations during all phases of project delivery. We understand processes that often require government or tribal council review and approval, as well as coordination with the Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA) or Federal Highway Administration (FHWA).

It's about people.

The infrastructure, transportation, and master plans we create are centered on the community, environment, and the needs of members.

SERVICES INCLUDE

- Railroad Engineering and Coordination
- Land Development
- Long Range Transportation Plans
- Drainage Master Plans, Studies, and Design
- Roadway and Bridge Design

TRIBAL COMMUNITY

Local communities depend on the connectivity provided by a network of safe and efficient infrastructure. Since 1932, our company has built a solid foundation of technical excellence, project management experience, and lasting relationships with clients. We are proud to be a longstanding member of the tribal community.

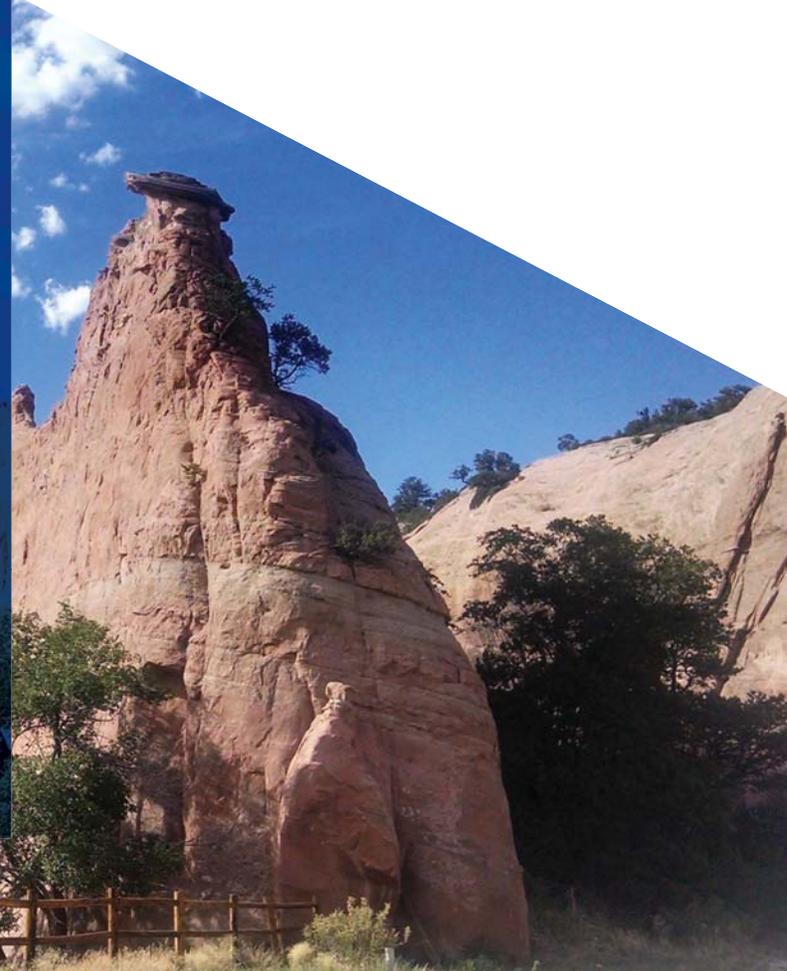

It's about improving our community's infrastructure.

When working on a project, our staff takes pride in providing the most economical, user-friendly improvements to a community's infrastructure. Our objective is to take on the client's project as if we were improving it for our daily use and spending our own tax dollars to do so.
